Special Celebration Ride for Les Brown 1st Sept 2013

How do you get two keen cyclists on a Tandem-Trike? Easy! One of them reaches 100 years of age, Les Brown, and the other, Les' friend Tom Hanley, organises a tribute, celebration Ride to mark the occasion by cycling from Lochmaben to Dalton Pottery.

And here they are, the men of action. Although different generations, both are Life Members of the Cyclists Touring Club, and share the same passion.

In support, and following Les and Tom, were a further 25 cyclists and friends, all marking this special day.

And didn't Les' family, neighbours and friends do well by cheering us all off. So many well-wishers. Les' nephew and great nephew, David and Matthew Brown drove up from Leeds earlier that morning, to be part of the celebration.

West Galloway was represented by Bob, Jim, Ted, Sandy and Bill.

How many cyclists does it take eat a birthday cake? Well take a look for yourself.

Coffee and cake, a chat with friends, and great day to celebrate

Happy Birthday Les – And many more of them!
